STAT

As I indicated in my letter of 16 January, we have again checked thoroughly our current vacancies and find that there is still nothing available that would be suitable. Your desire to be of service will, however, continue to be a matter of record, and you may be sure we will contact you should something suitable come up.

I do appreciate your continued interest and regret that the situation is not more favorable at this time.

Sincerely,

Signed - via CR 1/30/50.

Thank you for your letter of 11 January. I am glad to know of your return from abroad, and am sure you have been able to provide  with some very useful information.

I am having our Personnel Director survey the current vacancy situation within the Agency, which will take a little time. As soon as this has been done, you will hear further from us.

I am sure you understand that I can make no promises or commitments at this time, but I should be glad to have you come in to see me any time at your convenience.

Sincerely,

S/
